

Lawsuit seeks compensatory damages for residents throughout the U.S, Viet Nam, and worldwide injured and harmed by a pandemic that could have been stopped in its early stages.

The case will be filed a class action lawsuit against the People's Republic of China, Hubei Province, the City of Wuhan, and several Chinese government ministries. This lawsuit will be filed by concerned and affected citizens on behalf of residents and businesses in Viet Nam. The lawsuit is currently still open and will be sumited soon the Internation Ciriminal Court in Hague, Netherlands and seeks billions of dollars in compensatory damages for those who have suffered personal injuries, wrongful deaths, property damage and other damages due to China's failure to contain the COVID-19 virus, despite their ability to have stopped the spread of the virus in its early stages.

One Strong Legal Team _Attorneys in the U.S, U.K and Viet Nam (herein after called as SLT) looks forward to fighting for the rights of people and businesses across of Viet Nam and the rest of the country, who are now becoming sick or caring for loved ones, dealing with financial calamity, and navigating this new world of panic and social distancing and isolation.

Please fill out the form as attached here or the online with following link.